Founded in 1883, Florida Southern College is Florida’s oldest private college and one of the best private colleges in the nation. Florida Southern is a national leader in engaged and experiential learning, winning the William M. Burke Award for Excellence in Experiential Education in 2010.

Florida Southern College offers over 50 undergraduate majors including business, psychology, biology, chemistry, nursing, fine arts, and communication, with recently added programs in musical theatre, marine biology, and dance. Graduate degrees are offered through the School of Nursing, the School of Education, and the AACSBAccredited Barnett School of Business.

FSC is ranked #20 Best Regional Universities in the South by "U.S. News & World Report" and is included in Forbes’ Magazine’s ranking of “America’s Top Colleges,” The Princeton Review's "381 Best Colleges” and the prestigious "Fiske Guide to Colleges.”

The west campus, home to the world's largest collection of Frank Lloyd Wright architecture, is a National Historic Landmark and popular tourist destination. Distinguished by architectural brilliance and adorned by natural Florida beauty, FSC has ranked among "The Princeton Review's" top 10 for Most Beautiful Campus for five years, including an unprecedented two-year run as the number one Most Beautiful Campus in 2012 and 2013.
