

January 2017

Distance Learning & Student Services (DLSS)

GOAL: INNOVATION

Recently, the DLSS Partners Website went live. The new website will better serve educators, administrators and other professional staff by:

- Improving usability for frequent users. The most popular tools including transient student admissions applications, online course catalog and prerequisite manual are now accessible directly from the homepage.
- Providing access for the Members' Council to agendas and meeting information from the homepage.
- Including a resource library with links to helpful information and tools is now on the website, as well as a new feature to support student learning in both high school and college.
- Linking postsecondary staff to the latest research and information about professional development from the website.

A big thanks to the project team for making this possible.